New Wave of Sub Attacks in Atlantic Predicted

WARNING
THE NAVY

Announcement Released
Today States That Enemy U-Boats Continue to Operate Off East Coast Of United States Despite Increasing Effectiveness Of Counter Measures

TWENTY ARE REPORTED
DAMAGED OR SENT DO

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A new wave of u-boat attacks on Atlantic coast shipping was considered likely today despite the increasing effectiveness of American counter measures which already have sunk or damaged at least 20 Axis submarines.

The navy warned that "enemy submarines continue to operate off the east coast of the United States and are reported as far south as Florida," but no new coastal attacks have been announced since the sinking of the Francis E. Powell was disclosed on Wednesday.

German tactics in past submarine campaigns have been to maintain attacks in chosen areas by keeping up a constant flow of replacements. Following the same system in the present warfare, u-boats fresh from Germany would be replacing those which made the first attacks on coastal shipping in the week of Jan. 12 and whose torpedoes or fuel would have been expended.

There was speculation that the Germans might try to keep more than a score of u-boats off the Atlantic coast in an attempt to force the navy to divert warships from the North Atlantic convoy route to meet the new menace.

The navy added another submarine to the toll of those previously reported sunk by making public the report of a petty-officer plane pilot.

"Sighted sub sank same," said the report. Impressed by the pungency of the message, officials relaxed the rule of secrecy on anti-submarine successes and gave it to the country. They furnished no details.

Five Japanese submarines have been reported sunk in the Pacific, and Secretary Knox disclosed on Dec. 21 that at least 14 Axis submarines had been sunk or damaged in the Atlantic. The only official statement on counteraction against the current Atlantic raids, which have cost the Allies 14 merchant ships, was that some of the Axis submarines would not return home.

A navy announcement at Los Angeles said an enemy submarine was sighted off the harbor there yesterday and was attacked by depth bombs without apparent result. In the central Pacific, marines on Midway Island were credited with driving away two enemy submarines which surfaced off the island to shell the garrison. One of them was scored on an attack by the marines' battery, and the submarines failed to inflict any damage.

President Takes Time Out For a Birthday Lunch With Movie Stars

Congratulations!

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is 60 years old today, and in some respects he doesn't act it.

At a time of life when many men of his means would have turned to a comfortable retirement, he is working harder than ever. Since war broke out Dec. 7, he has scarcely been out of the White House—and he relishes travel.

His personal physician, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, says that the chief executive is in fine physical and mental fettle for a man of 60. Aside from deepening of the lines in his face, and the graying and thinning of his hair, almost nine years in the White House have touched him relatively lightly.

In more than 12,000 parties and dances tonight all over the nation, America will celebrate the birthday of the most famous person to overcome the handicap in infantile paralysis. Proceeds of the balls will be spent to help other victims of the dread disease.

Automotive Industry Nears End of Normal Activities

"F. O. B. Detroit" Gets New Meaning as Plants Prepare to Adapt Entire Productive Capacity to War

TO SPEED UP CHANGE

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Detroit, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The automotive industry, giant segment of America's industrial might, neared the end today of most of its normal activities preparatory to adapting its entire productive capacity to the manufacture of war implements.

Officially, passenger car production ceases tomorrow. A few companies, however, have been given special authorization to continue for not more than 10 days to complete January quotas.

Out of the job ahead, according to the car builders turned armors, will come a new concept of the car. "F. O. B. Detroit," with "Detroit" industrial symbol of mass production, embracing in this sense all 190 plants of the motor industry throughout the nation.

The 100 per cent conversion to war supplies production, industry heads have warned, is not just an overnight task, and tanks and airplanes won't come off assembly lines at the same rate automobiles have been poured out in the past. At the same time, experts assert, results expected by early summer will be "surprising" to most persons.

In four decades the nation's automobile factories have turned out more than $5,000,000 motor vehicles.

ADVANCE OF 93
MILES CLAIMED
IN RED REPORT

By the Associated Press
The ninth anniversary of Adolf Hitler's elevation as chancellor of Germany was chosen by Soviet Russia for announcement of details today of the most spectacular Red army gain in the forests basin—a 93-mile drive in which 25,000 Germans were reported slain.

Hitler, the supreme commander of armies buffeted in retreat across Russian wastes for two months, began broadcasting an anniversary speech about 5 p. m. Berlin time (10 a. m. eastern standard time).

On the North African front, British headquarters acknowledged that Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel's "greatly superior" forces had recaptured the port of Bengasi, as announced yesterday in Berlin and Rome.

Stressing Axis numerical superiority, a British communique conceded that British troops were making fresh withdrawals in the entire combat area of western Libya.

In Russia, Soviet dispatches reported that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's Red armies had by now seized the big steel city of Kharkov, Russia's "Pittsburgh" of the Ukraine, and now threatened German forces there with encirclement.

Former Governor of Pennsylvania Describes Two Dramatic Narrow Escapes When Planes Catch Fire in Midair

PUTS POLITICS ASIDE

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Two dramatic narrow escapes punctuated the homeward flight of William C. Earle, and George H. Earle, U. S. minister to Bulgaria, Earle revealed today.

Arriving at his suburban home here from a New York landing, the former Pennsylvania governor told how twice engines on the plane caught fire in mid-air.

The first time, flying across Africa in a four-engine bomber, Earle related that he and Bullitt, President Roosevelt's personal representative, and other passengers were ordered to sit on the bomb racks ready to bail out. But the "last drop" of a fire extinguisher worked by the co-pilot who had climbed onto the wing put out the fire.

They flew the South Atlantic, and coming up from South America, Earle said an engine again caught fire. An emergency landing was made on a Caribbean island, and they later were picked up by a Pan American Clipper which brought the party to New York.

"Three great shocks," he reported, had had a telling effect on the morale of the German army.

"The first is the state of war with the United States, the second is the mauling the Russians are giving them, and the third is

DUTCH ACCOUNT
FOR 54 VESSELS

By WITT HANCOCK
Batavia, N. E. L. Jan. 30.—(AP)—Fifty-four Japanese ships have been sunk or heavily damaged (official correction) in the 54 days of the Pacific war by the Netherlands Indies navy and air force, it was announced today.

Regular army units and guerrilla detachments battled the invaders in four widely-separated parts of the islands.

The staggering total of losses inflicted on Japanese shipping by the Dutch alone was announced in an authoritative summary made available to the official news agency Aneta.

The high command communique, released through the news agency Aneta, told of continued fighting both in and near Balikpapan, Borneo east coast oil center whose vast oil stores and installations were destroyed before the Japanese landed there.

Today's communique reported further intensive Japanese aerial reconnaissance over the islands

PRICE BILL
SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Chief Executive, in Completing Last Official Act To Make Measure a Law, Tells Reporters That It Is Good in Many Respects But Sees Danger In Sections Regulating Farm Quotations

EXPECT HENDERSON TO BE ADMINISTRATOR

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt signed the price control bill today and told reporters that it was good in many respects but that provisions applying to farm prices offered a danger.

These provisions, he said, provide a real danger in that no farm price could be stabilized below 110 per cent of parity.

For eight years, the administration has sought to work toward parity prices for farmers and the bill, he added, represents a very definite violation of that objective.

The measure, with the farm provisions, he said, provides a threat to the cost of living.

Nevertheless he said, the bill is certainly worth having and is the best that could be obtained at this time.

Leon Henderson, the price administrator, sat behind the president and when Mr. Roosevelt was asked who would be appointed administrator under the bill, he tossed his head at Henderson and replied in Latin "ecco homo," or "this man."

Few farm products have reached parity ceilings of 110 per cent of parity authorized by the law. An agriculture department report on prices received by farmers in mid-January indicated that only rice, beef cattle, veal calves, wool, and peanuts and soybeans for vegetable oil production, had reached the minimum ceiling level.

The approximate minimum ceiling and the January 15 farm prices, respectively, of principal commodities included:

Cotton 21.47 and 16.93 cents a pound; cotton seed $50.63 and $42.24 a ton; wheat $1.42 and $1.06 a bushel; corn $1.03 and 72.7 cents a bushel; oats 64 and 50 cents a bushel; barley 99.4 and 60.8 cents a bushel; rice $1.439 and $1.576 a bushel; rye $1.156 and 65 cents a bushel; flax seed $2.71 and $1.95 a bushel; potatoes $1.24 and 97.6 cents a bushel; sweet potatoes, $1.41 and 93 cents a bushel.

Hay $10.06 and $10.15 a ton; apples $1.54 and $1.16 a bushel; hogs $11.59 and $10.55 per hundred

CLAIM ELECTION
FRAUD AT POLLS
IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Indictment of 78 members of 14 district election boards was recommended yesterday by a grand jury which has been investigating alleged violations of the election law in the mayoralty contest last November.

The jury said in a presentment that the chief violations were: (1) Failure of officials to comply with the law requiring all qualified electors to sign a voter's certificate; (2) permitting assistance to be given to voters who are not entitled to receive such assistance under the registration laws.

The jury said the violations, which varied among the boards, included: Conspiring to prevent a free and fair election; failure to comply with election laws with respect to comparison of voter's signatures; fraud and negligence as election officials.

The presentment urged that records of the city registration commission "be purged of those who falsely claim the need of assistance in voting." Five other recommendations were made to curb the violations.

Friends of Harnar D. Denny, Republican defeated by Mayor Cornelius D. Scully, a Democrat, contested the election in court unsuccessfully.

Mennonites Seek To Migrate to Paraguay

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Henry P. Püget, Paraguayan consul to Philadelphia, said today that a group of Lancaster county Mennonites had applied for permission to migrate to his country, but that it appears unlikely they will make the trip because their religious scruples prevent their sitting for photographs.

Without the photographs, they cannot obtain passports. Thirty-five members of three Mennonite families living near Barneveld have planned to leave in April to join a Mennonite colony in the Chaco region of Paraguay.

Mennonites resent rules requiring them to send children to school after they are 14.

Dispute Over Administration of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to be Considered on February Ninth

OVER 1,800 AFFECTED

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's two-year controversy with the Federal Security Board over administration of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation is scheduled to be aired in Washington February 9.

Lewis G. Hines, secretary of labor and industry, said he and Attorney General Claude T. Reno would represent the state at a hearing on that date before the federal board, to determine the state's eligibility for further federal funds to operate the bureau.

Oscar M. Powell, executive director of the board notified Pennsylvania officials that the state's eligibility was in doubt. The payroll tax was held up in mid-January for several days while Rensselaer County was amending last year's law to permit an appeal for dismissed employees of the bureau who are under civil service.

The social security board distributed the funds for administrative costs. Pennsylvania employers have built up more than $210,000,000 in the unemployment compensation fund through the 2.7 per cent payroll tax.

James expressed amazement in his letter to Powell, that the law could have agreed to amendments to the law made last spring, and then back out.

The board took over the state employment service along with those of other states through a change in the act. The service

LIMA HAS BIG FIRE

Lima, O. Jan. 30.—(AP)—A spark of static electricity was blamed today for a spectacular fire which destroyed 240,000 gallons of gasoline and other petroleum products at a Standard Oil Company of Ohio bulk station. Loss estimates ran from $100,000 to $200,000. Eight storage tanks were destroyed before the stubborn blaze was extinguished early today.

RAILROADS WILL BOOST TARIFFS

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Railroads in Pennsylvania today had the authority to file new tariffs with the Public Utility Commission increasing passenger fares 10 per cent, and initial steps were taken in Washington for buses to follow suit.

Both railroads and buses have been granted a ten per cent rise in fares by the Interstate Commerce Commission, but the ruling applies only to interstate travel. The ICC bus order came yesterday, and bus companies were expected to follow with requests to the PUC to hike rates in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania commission yesterday announced it had given the railroads the green light to up the rates on travel within the state.

The railroad increase asked for would start February 10. Commission sources said that acquiescence in the tariff-filing application was tantamount to granting the interstate increase, although

In First Speech Since Declaration Against United States the Reichsfuehrer Admits to His People That He is Not Quite Certain the War Will End This Year

ASKS THE NATION TO PRODUCE MORE ARMS

Berlin (From German Broadcasts)—Jan. 30.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler in the first speech since his declaration of war against the United States told his people today that "America's war with Japan made us free to act" and "now we shall see what our U-boats may achieve."

He declared that "I do not know whether the war will end this year," but said "we are armed against everything, from the north to the south."

Hitler declared that on the eastern front the armies of the Reich were on the defensive against the weather—not the Russians, and claimed that the front there had finally been stabilized.

Hitler finished speaking at 3:03 p. m. (12:03 p. m. eastern standard time).

He said of the Russian war thus far that "in the east we fought a struggle which one day will be the glory of our nation."

Cheers greeted his statement that in North Africa Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel "turned around the moment that our enemies thought he was beaten and drove the British before him."

"The most difficult part is behind us," he asserted.

He declared that winter had been the great hope of Germany's enemies in the east, but that this hope never would be fulfilled.

Although he said he did not know whether the war would end in 1942, Hitler declared he was confident, however, that "where we meet the enemy we will beat him."

He told his audience of Axis representatives, party leaders and soldiers—many of them wounded—that Germany's number of submarines had been increased greatly, and that their activities would make themselves felt as a factor in the war.

He concluded his one hour, 55-minute speech with an appeal to the German nation to produce arms and munitions for the battlefront to ensure that "this will be another year of great victories."

Speaking for the first time since his declaration of war against the United States, Hitler assailed President Roosevelt and Prime

ASSEMBLY CALL
BY FEBRUARY 21

Harrisburg, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Governor James rejected a proposal of U. S. Senator Joseph E. Guffey that he ask a special session of the legislature to shift the May 19 primary to September, but indicated he would call the assembly for other matters by February 21.

On the Democratic senator's suggestion, James said, "I don't regard that as serious."

James said he would call the special session when the congressional reapportionment committee representing both branches of the legislature put in "black and white" its plan for reducing the state's congressional seats from 34 to 32. The reduction is required as a result of the 1940 census.

The committee has been summoned for next Wednesday for the announced purpose of obtaining the ten members' signatures on the plan.

While James could issue the call for Monday, Feb. 9, he pointed out that it would not be too late to enact a reapportionment bill if the legislators were assembled February 21.

The committee was reported in agreement that Republicans should drop the 16th, normally a G. O. P. district, the Democrats would eliminate a metropolitan Allegheny

Atlantic City Beauty
Contest May Suspend

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Uncle Sam will be asked whether it is all right for Atlantic City to conduct its annual bathing beauty contest this year.

J. Howard Buzby, president of the local beauty pageant organization, said today Atlantic City business and civic leaders were opposed to cancelling this year's pageant, but would do so if the federal government objected to the boardwalk festival.

Buzby said pageant officials began thinking of the subject when it learned yesterday that many national events, including the New Orleans Mardi Gras, the Shenandoah Valley apple festival and the Pasadena tournament of roses, had been cancelled because of the war.

Report of Federal Trade Commission Examiners To Provide Bases For "Corrective Action" To Be Launched

FAVORITES SUPPLIED

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—An investigation of 230 steel companies has turned up "some serious cases" of priorities violations, a War Production Board official said today, and action to "correct and possibly punish" them will be taken soon.

Findings of federal trade commission examiners who conducted a nation-wide, two-month survey of priorities procedure in steel mills were placed in the hands of WPB two weeks ago or more, it was learned, and will provide the basis for the "corrective action."

A general tightening up of priorities enforcement, to prevent firms from supplying favorite customers while high-rated military orders are held back, was indicated following the senate's approval Wednesday of the so-called second war powers bill. This provides criminal penalties up to $10,000 and one year's imprisonment for violation of priorities orders. The section was included in the bill of WPB's request.

The survey of the iron and steel industry, covering about 30 large, integrated steel companies and 200 smaller mills, disclosed a considerable number of priorities irregularities. Some of the violations were caused by misunderstanding of priorities procedure, but a number were serious enough to bring the flat statement that WPB "will do something of a public nature in the near future."

PAYROLL TAX IS BEING DISCUSSED

By JACK BELL
Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—A 15 per cent payroll tax on all salaries above $1,000 a year was reported under discussion in administration circles today as evidence developed that congressional and treasury officials thus far had failed to agree on fundamental principles of the new revenue bill.

Treasury experts, faced with necessity of raising $7,000,000,000 in general taxes if they are to meet President Roosevelt's request, were said to have renewed their suggestions of last year for a 15 per cent levy on payrolls, withheld at the source.

Rehabilitation for Physically

A similar course of rehabilitation training appears probable for those rejected by the medical examiners because of remedial defects.

This development followed an announcement by John B. Kelly, national director of physical education training, at last night's banquet of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association that the "Hale America" program is now in full swing.

Enemy Said to Have Hurlled 90,000 Fresh Troops Into Bloody, Climactic Assault to Snatch $400,000,000 "Crown Jewel" Of Britain's Far Pacific Strongholds

FIGHTING IS LIGHT ON THE BATAN PENINSULA

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Japan's invasion forces stormed within 18 miles of Singapore today, hurling 90,000 troops into a bloody, climactic assault to snatch at the $400,000,000 "crown jewel" of Britain's far Pacific strongholds.

As the battle thundered nearer to the mile-wide Johore Strait, separating Singapore island from the Malay peninsula, British headquarters acknowledged the gravity of the situation.

Across the South China Sea, Dutch troops were reported locked in bitter fighting with other Japanese invaders in four widely-scattered zones of the Indies archipelago—at Balikpapan, on the East Borneo coast; above Pontianak, chief port in West Borneo; on the Minalansa peninsula, in northern Celebes island, and around Kendari in southeastern Celebes.

The hard-hitting Dutch reported that 54 Japanese ships have been sunk or heavily damaged by the N. E. T. navy and air force in the 54-day-old war.

In the Philippines, a war department bulletin reported only light fighting on Batan peninsula in the past 24 hours, but added: "The arrival of fresh Japanese troops at the front and movements behind the lines indicate preparations by the enemy for the resumption of a large-scale offensive."

More than 200,000 Japanese troops, including an entire army, have now besieged Gen. Douglas MacArthur's little defense force on Batan for 28 days.

In a graphic message to President Roosevelt, Gen. MacArthur declared:

"Today, January 30, the anniversary of your birth, smoke-begrimed men, covered with the marks of battle, rise from the foxholes."

$6,016,300,000
MORE FOR NAVY

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today asked congress to add $6,016,300,000 to the record-breaking navy appropriation bill already passed by the house.

The estimates were received by a senate appropriations subcommittee after Chairman Overton (D-La.) announced that he would try to put an additional $4,000,000,000 in the huge bill for additional naval armaments.

The president made the request a short time before signing a bill appropriating $12,555,000,000, including funds for 22,000 combat planes and 10,000 training planes for the army. The army air corps would get about $9,000,000,000.

The measure, largest single appropriation ever passed by congress for one military arm, also carried $30,000,000 for construction of the Douglas dam on the French Broad River in TVA territory.

The new naval request from the budget bureau would push the bill to a total of $25,994,265,474, compared with the $19,977,953,474 voted by the house when it speeded approval of the history-making fund.

SEE NEED FOR MORE EQUIPMENT TO FIGHT FIRES

Work of the State Council of Defense over the state is bringing to light the fact that many of the state institutions are not equipped for the handling of fires in the buildings and are dependent on fire organizations in territory adjacent. While most of the structures in the state institutions are fire proof in as large a measure as can be made in their construction there is still grave danger. And inasmuch as there are housed in the various institutions large numbers of persons, insane or otherwise, the rescue work in event of fire is a big problem.

Few of the institutions have any fire equipment in the shape of fire engines, ladder trucks or similar machines, most of the fire fighting equipment being confined to coils of hose and fire extinguishers on each floor and large two-wheeled chemical tanks.

At the North Warren State Hospital there is no fire equipment worthy of the name although there is a fire brigade which drills regularly and works among the various buildings. Chief dependence for fire protection is from Warren, Russell and Sugar Grove fire departments.

There is a good water supply at the institution and hydrants are placed at advantageous places about the big buildings.

Throughout the state there is being roused an agitation for the installation of fire equipment and trained men at the various institutions and at the coming special session of the legislature there may be an appropriation made for the equipping of the big institution in a proper way.

The fire brigades that function at most of the institutions are trained more along the lines of rescue work than in fire fighting. Fire Chief Ward of the State Hospital, has a well trained personnel in his brigade and conducts regular fire drills. However the need of one or two pieces of fire apparatus is felt. Use of a pumper engine in the few minutes it would take the Warren department to reach the scene might save costly structures and many lives.

"SUNDOWN"

At the Library Theatre Today and Saturday

With a star-studded cast, boasting such names as Gene Tierney, Bruce Cabot, George Sanders, Reginald Gardiner and Cedric Hardwicke, Walter Wanger's first big production for the new season, "Sundown," will open Friday and Saturday at the Library Theatre.

"Sundown" is played by the "Sundown" pictures, an entirely new background, the hinterlands of Britain's Kenya Colony in Central East Africa.

The picture, which was directed by Henry Hathaway, revolves around a small group of white men who rule over several hundred thousand blacks and are in constant danger of annihilation by semi-savage tribes, especially when the latter are provoked by arms by enemy agents. Zia, the "do, rub the" picture, Gene Tierney, Supplices the half-caste daughter of a rich Arab trader, the hauntingly beautiful Zia and her mysterious actions provide the story with spirited romance and breath-taking suspense.

Pennsylvanians Defending Burma Road

J. Gilpin Bright (left), of Reading, and his boyhood friend, Peter Wright (right), of Birchrunville, Chester county, are in the "Flying Tigers" of American volunteer pilots defending the Burma Road from Jap attacks. Both are former U. S. Navy pilots. Peter's father, George I. Wright, of Philadelphia, said he had learned that his son recently shot down five Jap planes.

HOSPITAL PLAN IS CARRIED ON DURING WARTIME

The entry of the United States into the war has not caused any change in the manner in which the non-profit group hospitalization plan is extending hospitalization to those protected by the project, it is announced by the Hospital Service Association.

In response to widespread inquiries regarding the probable effect which an air raid or sabotage or any other type of catastrophe would have on the interpretation of contracts held by members of the hospital-sponsored plan, it is emphasized that the movement is ready to continue to pay hospital bills incurred under war conditions.

The only development which could possibly interfere with hospitalization would be destruction of the hospitals themselves. However, with more than 90 hospitals throughout western Pennsylvania taking part in the plan such a condition is an extremely remote contingency.

The Hospital Service Association is cooperating with members who are being called into the army, navy and marine corps. Those enlisting or being drafted will have their membership held in abeyance with the privilege of resuming active membership within 60 days after their discharge from the armed forces.

In the case of a single man this means that he will make no payment during the tenure of his service. A married man called to the colors will still include his wife in the plan, payment being reduced accordingly. For a married man with one child the rate will be reduced from the regular family fee to that which extends protection to two persons no payments at all being required from the husband serving with the armed forces.

The hospital-sponsored plan adopted this program as a wartime measure so that those fighting to protect the nation would not only be relieved of making payment for themselves but would also have the satisfaction of knowing that the members of their families have protection during their absence.

WELL FLOODING IS CARRIED ON TO BOOST FLOW

Although flooding in an oil field is nothing particularly new and has been carried on in a small way in this county on a couple of leases there is at present a large flooding project under way between Clarendon and Weldbank. On the right of the highway Mrs. Mabel Sharp some months ago disposed of an oil lease which she owned covering 700 acres to the Franchet Estates of Bradford. This firm promptly surveyed the lease for the value of flooding procedure.

Since they have taken over the lease sixteen wells have been drilled for water and a compressor plant has been installed whereby the water can be forced into the oil strata, causing the oil to flow into the cone of the wells on the lease in greater volume.

New power houses have also been erected and equipped and the total expenditure in the development will cost more than one half million of dollars.

The whole Clarendon field in this vicinity will be given flooding and among the leases on which flooding oil will be carried on are the Crew Levick, South Penn Oil Corporation, Shaner, Perry, McCool and S. E. Copp.

Much drilling will also be undertaken in the area if the price of oil should advance, and it is confidently expected that the peg on oil prices as it now exists will be changed and the price of Pennsylvania crude increased.

In addition to the increased production which will follow the flooding of the field and the expenditures for equipment and for drilling, the payrolls on the lease will undoubtedly increase due to more men being employed in various capacities. It is the biggest development in the Clarendon field for many years.

To handle the oil due to the increased development pipe lines have been laid by the United Refining Company which will gather the oil from the wells and convey it to the tank field from which it will eventually find its way to the refinery in this city.

FIELD SERVICE HERE BY SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

A representative of the Erie field office of the Social Security Board which serves this area will be in Warren next Monday, when office hours will be held in the Employment Service office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, from 10 a. m. to 1:00 p. m., it was announced today by Bernard A. Farabaugh, manager.

The representative will give the same service as the Erie field office and all persons desiring information on the Social Security laws are invited to call on him.

Many people are now obtaining employment and are required to have Social Security account numbers. Mr. Farabaugh said, Others who have cards have lost them and need duplicates. Also, persons just starting in business and hiring employees are required to obtain employers' identification numbers.

Matters of this type will be taken care of by the representative who will also answer questions concerning records employers must keep, tax returns and wage reports, and other responsibilities under the Social Security laws. Applications may be filed with him for benefits by wage earners who are 65 or over and by the families of deceased wage earners.

THE PRESIDENT IS FIT

As Warren joins the rest of the nation along with the whole of the free world and conquered millions in observance of the sixtieth birthday anniversary of President Roosevelt it is consoling and gratifying to note that his personal physician reports the executive "is in fine physical and mental fettle for a man of sixty."

Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntyre states that aside from the deepening lines in his face and the graying and thinning of his hair, almost nine years in the White House has touched the executive relatively lightly.

Never before in the history of the country has the birthday anniversary of a president been of more concern to the world in general than that being observed today.

Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express reflects the sentiments of all conquered people as well as those in countries now in the allied group when it says "Their fortune in President Roosevelt's 61st year and for many years to come will be moulded by this man's character, the work he has done and the forces he sways."

Congratulations, Mr. President!

MASTERFUL LEADER

The great vote of confidence given the Churchill government by the British House of Commons Thursday is evidence of the tremendous trust placed in the prime minister by the general public.

DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World War Analyst, ventures the view "that the genius of Mr. Churchill is so outstanding that there is no other man in Britain who could fill his place. As an Englishman remarked, the average man-in-the-street goes about with his fingers crossed, praying that a bomb won't fall on the premier."

In appraising Churchill's capabilities Mr. MacKenzie says that it must be remembered that he not only is a statesman of broad experience but also has had wide training in both military and the naval services—a rare combination of assets. And, of course, one mustn't overlook his really great qualities of leadership, and his parliamentary skill in handling political crises.

REAPPORTIONMENT

It is hoped that the special legislative committee of five Republicans and five Democrats assigned to settle the problem of reapportioning the congressional districts of the state, when it meets next Wednesday, will settle Republican and Democratic differences and reach agreement on a plan to be submitted to Governor James.

Politicians are watching closely the moves made relative to a special session, which it is expected, will be called by Governor James, as soon as a satisfactory redistricting plan is agreed on.

As stated in dispatches, Republican leaders have made known their plan, but the Governor is waiting on Democratic chiefs to take similar action.

It will be recalled that under one of the plans proposed Warren county will be in a new congressional district to which McKean, Potter and Cameron will be added, and Mercer county dropped.

It is said that plans are now being formulated by Republicans of the proposed new district for a meeting soon after legislative action is taken. The conference may be held in this city, with leaders from the seven counties in attendance.

Many believe Warren and the group of counties placed in the district will have more identical interests than under the present setup.

It should be remembered that you don't have to be a bridge expert to attend one of the two parties scheduled tonight for the Infantile Paralysis fund. There will be auction contract at the Philomel and duplicate at the Marconi Club. Buy a couple tickets and help a good cause.

Keep those letters going to the boys in the service. Regardless of where they are, the last address you contacted them through will reach them now.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 30—A great deal of the congressional thinking on housing is still based on the assumption that the only kind of housing which is any good is that in which an honest American worker buys a house or a farm on time, settles down in the community, raises a family, finally pays off the mortgage, stays on the same place or keeps working for the same company all his life, saves enough money to retire on and spends a comfortable old age puttering around the house he and the little woman built just after they got married, 40 years ago.

That was the pre-First-World-War conception of ideal American life. It is still the rural and the small-town conception of life as it should be, and the majority of the congressmen today are definitely rural, definitely small town, definite pre-World-War-One. No one can deny that those were the good old days. But the question arises as to whether life is like that any more or whether it will ever be like that again.

Surveys today indicate that not one worker in 100 lives in the same house for 25 years. Jobs change. Factories go bust. A drought or a depression comes along and makes necessary wholesale migrations of thousands of people. Hopeful homeowners carrying mortgages get foreclosed on, slab-dab in the middle of one of these catastrophes and lose everything but their shorts.

It is sad to admit, but rural and small-town America as they were in those good old days are disappearing. Rurally, there aren't enough new farms opening up for the sons of farmers reaching manhood, and these good young men have to go to the big town for a job. In the small towns, likewise, there aren't enough jobs to go around. With automobiles, good roads and eight-hour days, these young fellows and a lot of the older ones can commute to jobs 30 or 40 or 50 miles away from home.

If you were to spell out the cycle of shelter requirements for the average worker during his life span today, housing experts believe it would be something like this:

1. Before marriage—one room.
2. Just married—two or three rooms.
3. Raising a family—one to two more rooms.
4. Change of jobs—a different dwelling for each new location.
5. Increasing prosperity—a bigger or better house.
6. After the children grow up and leave home—back to two or three or four rooms.

In other words, during 30 or 40 years of useful life, the average family will require from five to six or maybe 10 different dwellings. This isn't confined to factory workers in the lower income brackets, either. It applies to white-collar workers in the middle income groups and by skilled technicians, professional folks and executives—particularly to the better paid employees of big corporations who get transferred from one branch office or one plant to another, often in distant cities. These white-collar migrants are just as much of a housing headache as the coming out even on the half-dozen deals.

In the face of such conditions, the old talk of "settling down and raising a family" becomes mere (Turn to Page Five)

STORIES IN STAMPS

Japan Gains Base In Sarawak Invasion

JAPANESE occupation of Sarawak gained a military base for operations against the Netherlands Indies but little in actual territorial or economic value.

The stamp above, issued in 1918, bears a portrait of Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, rajah, of the territory since 1917.

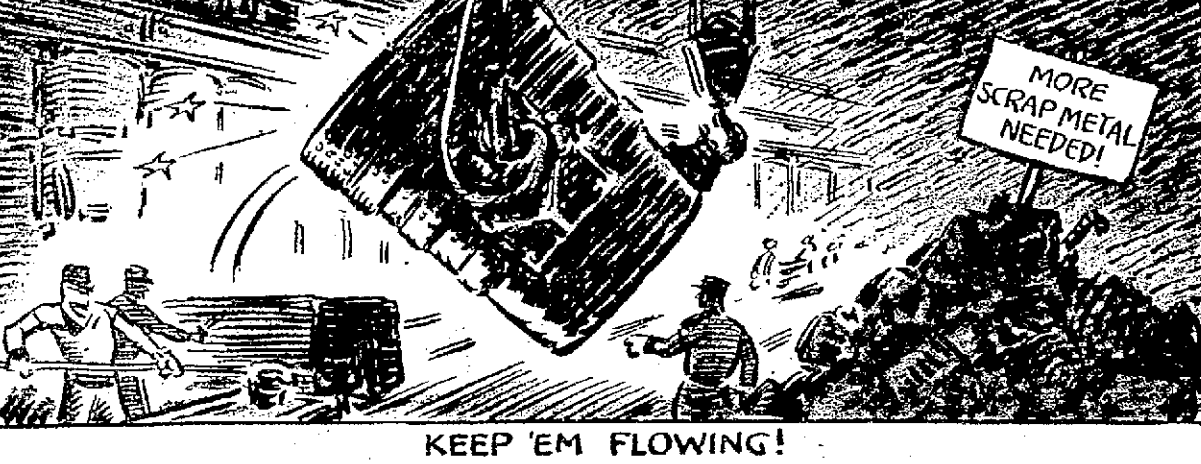

In 1840, Rajah Muda Hassim, uncle and heir presumptive of the Sultan of Brunei, of which Sarawak was formerly a part, prevailed upon James Brooke, an English officer, to aid in suppressing a native rebellion. In return for his help, the sultan ceded Sarawak to Brooke, who became rajah the following year.

The British government recognized Sarawak as an independent state in 1863 and in 1888 concluded a treaty which made the state a protectorate, although internal affairs were solely in the hands of Brooke and his administrative aides. Sir James was succeeded by his nephew, Sir Charles John Brooke, who was followed by Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, present rajah.

Principal mineral wealth is the oil field at Miri, in the north, where a European oil corporation maintained more than 5000 employees. Recent advices from Sarawak stated that the wells would be destroyed before they fell in Japanese hands.

ENEMY ALIENS

When the U. S. went to war there were thousands of German Italian and Japanese nationals in this country—enemy aliens. Some were arrested, some just placed under scrutiny, while all were subject to some sort of restriction.

1. What state became a temporary home for diplomats of enemy countries?

2. What four major anti-defense articles were enacted, aliens ordered to turn over to the U. S. government shortly after war was declared?

3. What famous aviatrix was arrested on charges of being a German agent after U. S. entered war?

4. For what similar spy activities were Herman Lang and Everett M. Roeder recently sentenced to 18 years in prison in first U. S. spy convictions since war was declared?

5. Is travel of enemy aliens in the U. S. and possessions restricted?

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 23

INCOME OF FARMERS

Farmers, which include livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers, poultry raisers, and operators of plantations and ranches, are liable for federal income-tax returns provided their income is sufficient to require the filing of returns. Primarily, due to the reduction in the credit for personal exemptions, many farmers will be liable for returns and to the tax for the first time for the year 1941.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses," is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040. Use of Form 1040F is optional in the case of farmers who report income on the accrual basis. A farmer who reports income on the cash receipts and disbursements basis (in which no inventories to determine profits are included) must include in gross income for the taxable year (1) the amount of cash or the value of merchandise or other property received during the taxable year from the sale of livestock or produce which were raised, regardless of when raised; (2) the profits from the sale of any livestock or other items which were purchased; and (3) gross income from all other sources.

Under the accrual basis in which inventories are used to determine the profits, farmers' gross profits are ascertained by adding to the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the end of the year the amount received from the sale of livestock and produce, and miscellaneous receipts of income during the year, and deducting from this sum the inventory value of livestock and produce purchased during the year. All livestock, whether purchased or raised, must be included in inventory at their proper valuation. Livestock acquired for draft, breeding or dairy purposes and not for sale, may be included in the inventory instead of being treated as capital assets subject to depreciation, provided such practice is consistently followed. If farm produce is exchanged for merchandise, groceries, or the like, the market value of the articles received in exchange is to be included in gross income. The value of farm products which are produced by a farmer and consumed by his family does not constitute taxable income. Rents received in crop shares are to be returned as income as of the year in which the crop shares are reduced to money or the equivalent of money. Proceeds of insurance, such as hail and fire insurance on growing crops, are required to be included in gross income. Amounts received as loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation may, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered as income and included in gross income for the taxable year in which received. The election made with respect to the calendar year 1939, or for the first year thereafter for which a return is required to be filed, is binding for all subsequent years unless the Commissioner approves a change to a different method of accounting. Amounts received under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the Price Adjustment Act of 1938, section 303 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and the Sugar Act of 1937 constitute taxable income to the recipients for federal income-tax purposes.

THIEVES WITHOUT HONOR

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30.—(P)—Theft of bronze G. A. R. markers from the graves of 300 Civil War veterans in Allegheny cemetery was believed solved last night, detectives said, with the arrest of three men after the metal had been found in a pawnshop. The trio was charged with larceny and desecration of graves.

nonsense as expressing the way of average American life. The latter part is still possible, but the former is complicated.

There is a demand, now, for housing from 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the war industry workers. For lack of housing on the job, workmen who live in Connecticut are riding in their automobiles to war jobs in New Jersey and back to bed in Connecticut. And from Atlantic City they drive to jobs in Camden and Philadelphia. Whenever there is a big new munitions plant or shipyard there are cases of long distance commuting like this till the housing problem is solved.

But wait till tires wear out and for lack of rubber can't be replaced. Commuting by private auto will then be out of the question, and instead of a demand for additional housing for from 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the war industry workers, you may have a demand for housing up to 25 per cent of these workers near the plant site. In plain language, an acute housing shortage for war labor is imminent. An immediate reorganization of all government housing organizations to end the present confusion and to adopt a new and definite war housing policy is essential.

President's Party Details Completed By Local Committee

Every last detail is complete today for the big President's Birthday card parties to be held this evening at the Philomel Club and the Maroon Club and the committee is anticipating a ready response for both sessions.

Contract and auction bridge, also five hundred, will be played at the Philomel, starting at eight o'clock and concluding with the making of prizes and serving of refreshments. At the same hour at the Maroon Club, D. A. Sealise will direct a duplicate tournament with the entire proceeds going to the infantile paralysis fund.

This is the ninth consecutive year that this nation has publicly observed President Roosevelt's birthday anniversary with an appeal for funds with which to carry on adequate research in the vital and humanitarian work of aiding those suffering the after-effects of infantile paralysis.

Today is President Roosevelt's 60th anniversary and he will speak to the nation over a four-network, coast to coast radio hook-up tonight in observance of the occasion and acknowledgment of the thousands of benefits being staged.

The president's address will follow brief talks from defense workers and the networks will then swing to the Waldorf-Astoria, where the annual Birthday Ball will be in progress.

CROP LOANS TO BE GRANTED TO LOCAL FARMERS

The greatest supply of canned vegetables in the history of the country and all grain crops in abundance will be produced to meet wartime needs under the 1942 program announced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

Every effort should be made by all farmers to exceed their past production and make 1942 a year of the greatest and most abundant crops in history, it was stated today.

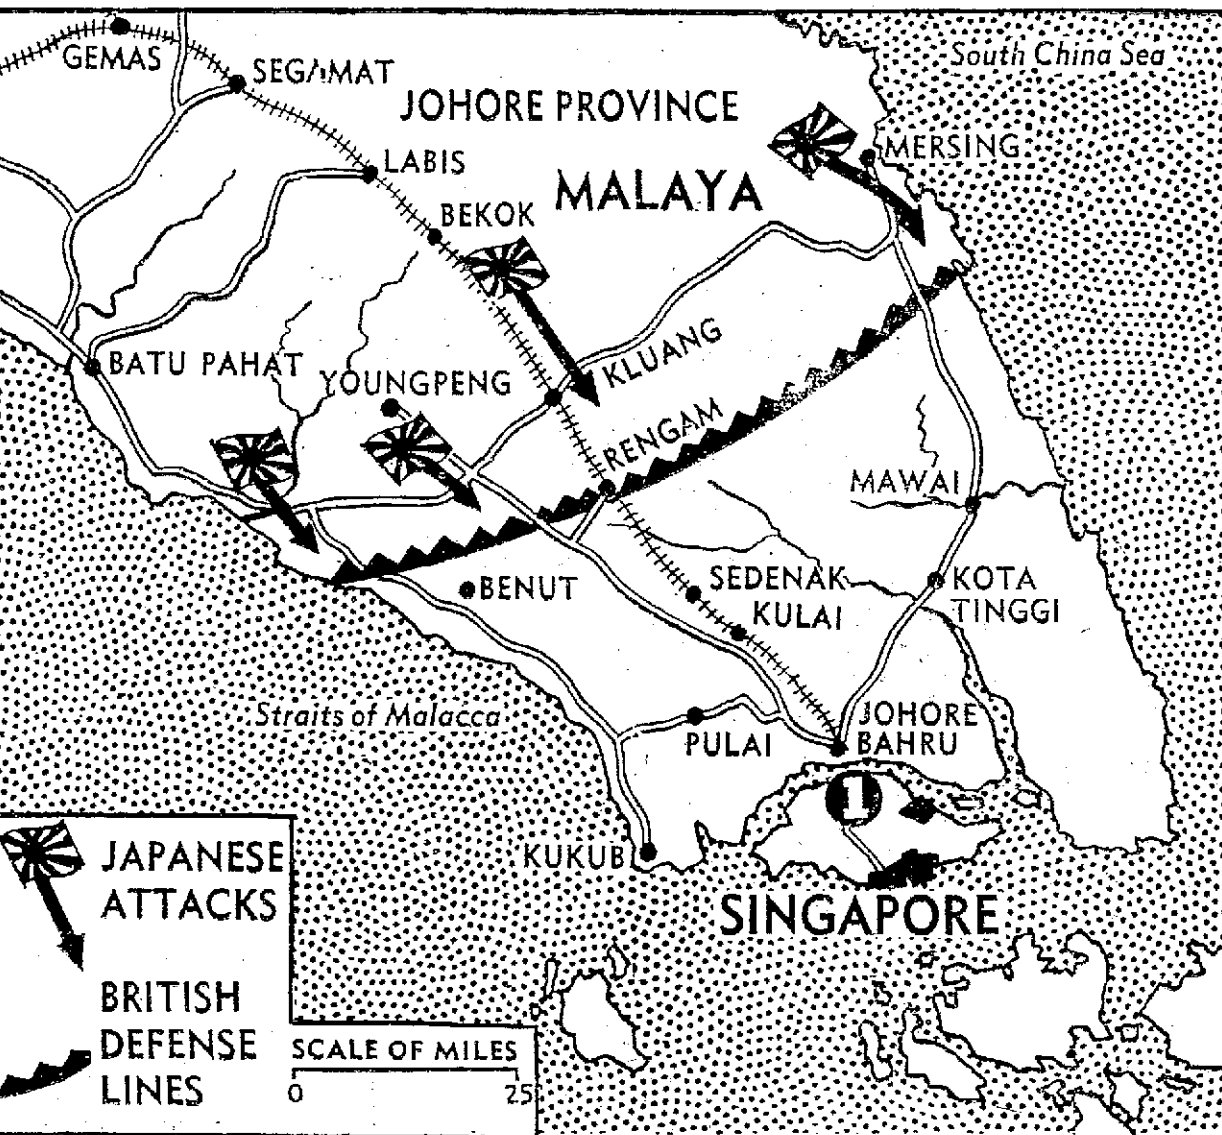

Special assistance will be given all farmers from the Crop and Feed Loan Office and all farmers needing financial aid should apply at once.

The Crop and Feed Loan office makes loans to farmers at a very low rate of interest to enable them to purchase for cash such items as lime, fertilizer, seed or feed for stock, or to repair machinery or increase poultry or hog production.

T. J. Nealon, field supervisor for the crop loan office, will be in the law library of the Warren county court house next Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. to take applications from farmers who apply. For further information, farmers should see their county agent or write to the crop loan office, Box 454, Butler, Pa.

Foes Are Assailed by Hitler

(From Page One) Minister Churchill today and declared that, excepting his Axis partners, Germany is fighting a new World War against her same old foes.

Most of the address was a reiteration of Hitler's long standing arguments that Germany was persecuted.

He said that even in the last war Prime Minister Churchill was among the English "warmongers" and that President Roosevelt was the right hand of Woodrow Wilson, whom he described as "the man who caused the greatest harm to the German people."

The speech—his first since his declaration of war against the United States—celebrated the ninth anniversary of his elevation as reich-chancellor.

The speech was relayed by all German radio stations as well as those throughout Italy, Finland, Rumania, Croatia and Manchukuo. Also relayed was the introduction of Hitler in which Dr. Goebbels said "victory was once for us a matter of faith—that is, of faith in your persons. What at one time was a matter of faith is today for us a certainty."

Hitler said the present conflict was properly called a Second World War.

In the first World War, Hitler said, the Germans fought "gloriously" and the British "were almost on the point of breaking down when in the eleventh hour traitors in Germany broke the German might."

"This," he declared, "was exclusively our own fault. 'At that time a man faced up who caused the greatest harm to the German people—Woodrow Wilson. . . the right hand of this man was the present President Roosevelt."

"The German people did not know that this American president (Wilson) in no way felt himself bound to keep to the truth . . ."

Hitler told his audience in the Berlin sportsplatz that after the armistice Germany was stripped of her defenses and the German people lost all hope.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—One of the great phenomena of the United States government is the peculiar quality of the White House and the way it fits into the American scheme of things.

For generations, it has almost been a living personality in the minds of the American people, but in recent years it has become a world personality as never before. "The White House says," the White House believes, the White House reports. And all the world listens.

THIS is something that transcends the men who have lived there, for although President Roosevelt has contributed much to the power and personality of the White House, it had assumed this air of personal entity before he was born.

Washington, Jefferson, Hoban and L'Enfant, the men who planned and located "the mansion or palace of the presidents" as it was always thought of in those days, would be amazed to find that it has become a force in world affairs.

They envisioned it as a quiet retreat where the president might retire from the hurly-burly of politics raging at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue on Capitol Hill. They saw it as a peaceful dignified home, given over to pleasant living. They counted it as the center of that gay, social life in which they presumed Washington would duplicate the pattern of other great capitals.

When the cornerstone was laid 150 years ago this October, the future of the president's mansion was considered in those terms.

When our John Adams and sharp-tongued Abigail arrived eight years later to find only six rooms sufficiently completed to be habitable and an army of workmen still camped on the ground that sloped down to a vaporous swamp, there still was no thought that the mansion might ever become the pulse of government.

Possibly it was Jefferson who started pumping the blood of a living personality into the place.

Jefferson was a national figure of only slightly less stature than Washington and his coming to the mansion gave it an aura of tradition as well as political power.

NEVERTHELESS, it was not until the British had sacked Washington and burned the mansion, and Hoban had set about rebuilding it, that it emerged as "the White House."

By that time, the outlines of the central part of the building became pretty much as they are today and it remained only for Andrew Jackson to turn the building around, making the North Portico the front door; and for the long east and west wings to be built to give it its present appearance.

It has a swimming pool in the west wing now and beautiful lawns where the old swamp used to be. Many of its rooms have charm and dignity.

THE President has his breakfast in bed and starts the day's work before he is out of his pajamas. He lunches from a gleaming table in his office, generally in conference.

The dinners are nearly always family or small group affairs, especially on Sunday nights, when Mrs. Roosevelt turns the cogs in our world war machine; the historic sessions such as that with Winston Churchill; and above all those daily utterances which come out of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue for all the world to weigh and consider: "The White House says."

Wolves Promise Dragons Hard Scrap on Hilltop Tonight

Locals Can Do No Worse Than Tie for Second Place; Still Are Rated Favorites

With nothing worse than a tie for second place in store for them, the Wolves are determined to end the dead heat for first place honors with the Bradford Owls, the Warren High Dragons will invade the Hilltop tonight, determined to advance the Wolves, and do their part in an effort to gain that first-place deadlock.

The most difficult part in bringing around the tie for the loop's top notch, is the fact that John-Kane has improved greatly since the start of the league campaign, finished team now, with valuable experience a possession they have gained while losing some disappointing and disheartening early season contests. The Wolves, under the tutelage of Red Parsons, will be in there pitching to-

BOB PASTOR AND GUS LESNEVICH GO TONIGHT

BY SID FEDER

New York, Jan. 30.—(P)—Out at Camp Upton, where they make soldiers out of guys named Joe Private J. Louis Barrow is going to have a lot of fun tonight while Gus Lesnevich and Bob Pastor find each other all over Madison Square Garden's ring.

For, there is a good chance that the winner of this ten-round tea party may be served up to Private Barrow in a couple of months. And the only dish the Private is under of than fresh fried chicken is a platter of hopeful heavy-weight, served hot or cold. He kills both varieties.

The chief incentive for Rapid Robert and the Rugged Russian is this chance for the winner to get his ears knocked off in March, when Private Barrow comes back to the wars.

Promoter Mike Jacobs has promised both that the winner will receive "first consideration" when it comes to picking the name of Joe's next victim.

The gambling guys figure that Private Barrow is the one to beat. In the better 49th street price-making parlors, they're laying 5 to 8 Pastor adds sturdy Gus to the sparkling list of fellows he took apart during 1941.

This corner casts its vote that Ray, too.

Hoppe Given Award By Philly Writers

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—(P)—Philadelphia sports writers feel that the veteran billiard champion, Willie Hoppe, is the nation's most courageous athlete.

A plaque in recognition of his 1941 activities, which included getting out of a sick-bed to win the three-cushion crown, was presented the cue artist at the annual banquet last night.

A special award for courage went to Army Flyer Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., who gave his life to sink a Japanese battleship at Pearl Harbor.

The "outstanding athlete for 1941" award went to the New York Yankees' Joe DiMaggio.

Skaters Warm Up for National Title Meet

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 30.—(P)—Ken Bartholomew and Carmelita Landry, defending titleholder and favorites, headed a record field of speed skaters who worked out today over a soft and slushy ice track for the National Championships which start tomorrow.

Bartholomew, the lean and lanky kid from Minneapolis, and Miss Landry, diminutive entry from Fitchburg, Mass., who is one of the most serious trainers in the sport, gave notice they were ready for a sturdy defense by turning in smashing victories in the North American Championships at St. Paul last week. Meet officials expected 225 entries by tomorrow.

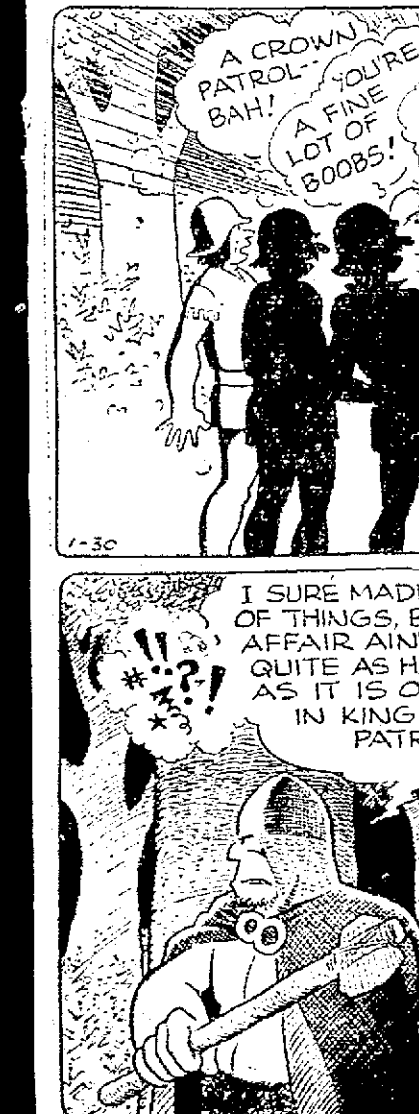

Emporium Pays Visit To Massmen Tonight

Sheffield, Jan. 29.—Already having assured themselves of no worse than a tie for third place in the first half of the North League campaign, Sheffield's Wolverines defeated Tuesday by Ludlow and still smarting from that setback, will attempt to clinch that spot in the league standings for themselves in their concluding game of the half here Friday night against the Emporium Hi Tubers, currently tied with Ridgway in last place.

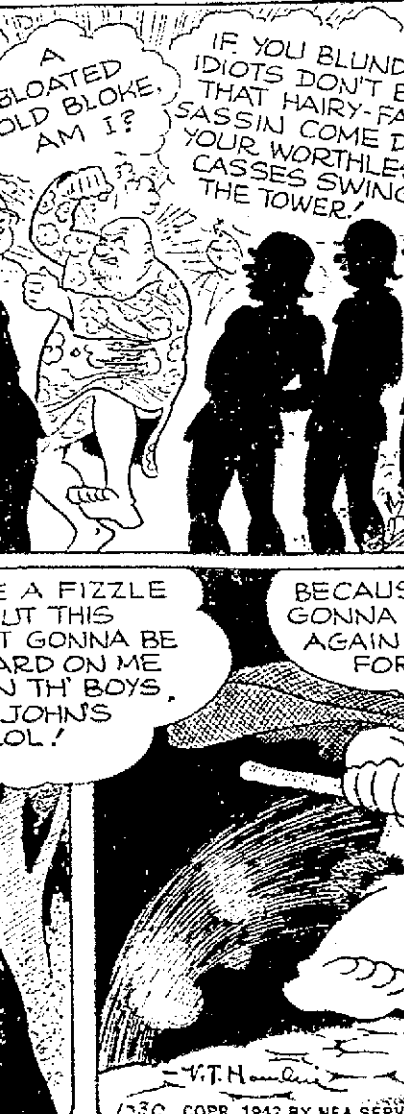

Players on the Emporium team, which like any oft-defeated club will be dangerous and should not be viewed lightly by the Wolverines, include Malizia, Griffin, Casey and Callahan, forwards; Parks, center; Gustafson and Rodich, guards.

The prelim is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock.

Zupke Pupil to Take His Place at Illinois

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 30.—(P)—In vast Memorial Stadium, built during the pre-Grange era of Bob Zupke-coached Illinois football team, a Zupke pupil named Ray Eliot will direct the University of Illinois gridder's next fall.

With spring football drills scheduled to begin shortly, Eliot today plunged into his new duties with the declaration:

"We will start right away to get things in shape for next fall. We have a great bunch of kids who love to play football, and it's going to be our job to mold them into a real team."

Just six years old when Zupke began his 29-season reign here in 1913, Eliot held the position of line coach when his appointment was announced yesterday.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

IN THIS WRITER'S OPINION, DRAGONS RATE FAVORITES FOR RED CROSS GAME BY VIRTUE OF BEING IN BEST SHAPE

We've been asked to voice our own opinion of the pre-game possibilities held by the 1937-38 champs and the Dragons in their Red Cross benefit attraction come Tuesday night. Well, to be honest and frank, our opinion is probably no more accurate than that of any man you might stop along the street, but being in this capacity, and at request, we'll attempt to size up the picture just exactly as it looks to us. We'd like to place the Dragons as slight favorites in the coming contest, solely upon the fact that the Kolpiemmen are in condition and Beatty court is like the wide open places when you come to playing basketball. But the 1937-38 unit will have the edge in experience, several of them having played considerable ball since leaving school, and all of them composing two of the finest teams ever produced in Warren High; in fact, the two best outfits in Heinie Kolpien's ten-year regime to date. They showed probably more ability per man in those two seasons than have any of the other teams under Kolpien, but this year's squad is of the opinion, so we've told, that they can lick the Champions, so they'll get their chance. Personally, should we be given decent odds (they wouldn't have to be very high), we'd back the former stars, believing that their ball handling ability alone will cause the Dragons plenty of trouble.

In re-aquainting you with the personnel you may expect to find on the Champions' roster next Tuesday night, we take you back to the 1937 and 1938 seasons, reviewing for you fans the records compiled by these two teams. The 1937 aggregation, of which Johnny Dahler, Bob Traub, Dick Underwood, Ken Whisner, Willie Zerbe, Tink Wolfe, "Springs" Johnson, Bob Beatty and Art McKeehan were members, played 24 games, winning 18 and losing only six, beat Mt. Jewett in the Northern Division playoff, topped Punxsutawney for District Nine honors, and fell before Sharon in the Interdistrict playoff at Thiel. With Bob Chase and Tom Conway added, the former for only half a season, and with Dahler, Traub, Whisner and Johnson missing from the squad, the 1938 team played 26 games, actually winning 20 and losing only six, but was credited with two forfeit victories from St. Marys, giving them the Northern League title. They also whipped Mt. Jewett for the Northern Division gonfalon, took Clarion in the first district playoff, downed Sykesville in the second district elimination, and beat Clearfield in the western Pennsylvania semi-final at Sharon. The '38 team backed into the title, but went on to become Warren High's greatest outfit of all time, and did the Northern League proud by surviving three play-off contests before bowing out. Only Bradford's feat last year of going to the western Pennsylvania finals, and Sheffield's trick of also going the same back in 1930, have surpassed the success claimed by the Kolpiemmen. So, when you get comfortably seated Tuesday night, that's the team you may expect to see, not quite up to par, probably, but set to dish out a thrilling tussle with this year's scholastic cage crop.

Quickies... Fred Averill, whose daughter was recently married, a more complete report of which may be found on the society page, was a former Warren High basketball, baseball and football star from 1907 through 1910. Averill hasn't been in Warren for quite some time, but he sends greetings to a host of friends. Four men were ejected from the Sheffield-Ludlow fracas the other evening, three of them Ludlow players. As the Giants used only seven men, it would seem they have ended the fracas with only four players on the court. May have been an error somewhere in the box score, though, and we didn't see the encounter, so can't tell positively. Official American and National League baseball films were shown at the On City Y. M. C. A. last evening, free of charge, though they're not to be shown again. Billy Conn couldn't be brought into Warren sometime soon? ... Billy Conn scaled to be impressive, though they report he didn't fight the fight he put up against Joe Louis. Conn is gunning for a return bout with Joe, but right now the Bomber wants to meet a new challenger, Japan. And you can follow his past form sheets in picking the winner.

Guldahl Starts Play In Crosby Tournament

Rancho Santa Fe, Calif., Jan. 30.—(P)—Ralph Guldahl leads an array of less renowned players into the first round of the $5000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament today.

The overcrowded entry list was split, the first division playing its 18 holes today and the second half going out tomorrow in this sixth annual links battle.

Saturday being a better day for attendance, the name players, including Defending Champion Sam Snead, Benny Hogan, Byron Nelson and company, swing into action tomorrow.

Brookville, Punxsy To Meet in Playoff

ROCK CLEANERS TOP PATTERSONS FOR GONFALON

The Rock Cleaners were the jubilant winners last night of the first half championship in the Y. M. C. A. Class A League, turning back the Pattersons by a 32-31 count in a second contest fully as exciting as was the Pattersons-Sheffield O'Connors fracas Tuesday night.

A first quarter lead of 12-5 put the Rocks ahead in the ball game, and they never were overtaken throughout the contest, though the Pattersons pressed them all the way.

Chuck Hoffecker played in the contest, though he had an injured chin which he risked for the sake of a championship, and the crippled Johnny Dick also saw brief action for the Pattersons quint.

Johnny Pawk and Chuck Clawson topped the winners with 12 and 11 points respectively, and Eddie Burns paced the losers with 19.

The second half schedule starts next Monday.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR. (Wide World Sports Columnist)

New York, Jan. 30.—(Sports World)—Future book notes: Sports scribes are speculating on the possibility that the major leagues will go back to the old schedule system of fewer interseasonal tours and longer series now that railroad fares are going up. Most traveling scouts think they can get accommodations without much trouble but higher costs are something else. Chances are the subject will be considered at next week's meetings. How about Bernie Bierman as naval academy football coach? Don't think it isn't possible. Major Swede Larson is a marine and since he has been called to active duty, somebody will have to take over his two jobs at Annapolis. Wonder what kind of a ration card New Orleans will get for its sugar bowl?

Sideline Coaching

During a pro basketball tournament game at Rochester last week Manager Les Harrison of the Rochester Seagulls kept calling to Capt. Jerry Bush: "Take a time out, Jerry." After several shouts, Jerry did, and went to the bench to ask what Harrison wanted. "I needed a chance to catch my breath," Les explained.

Shear Nonsense

Most discussed subject in recent sport columns has been Buddy Baer's damage suit over his auto accident before the Louis fight. Some scribes think either the fight or the suit must be phony and both ought to be investigated. Others, like Walter Stewart of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, suggest it was a hump in a six ounce glove that hurt Buddy and Bob Stedier of the Buffalo Evening News suggests: "Charity covers a multitude of sins even unto the boxing game."

Sportpourri

Minor league ball players may get more dough this year even though the big leaguers won't. Bill Terry points out that they are being moved to higher classifications faster than before and that a lot of kids will be paid as much as league rules allow to offset the appeal of high-pay defense jobs.

Lou Diamond, the honest brakeman, has been wearing an iron hat around Jacobs Beach this week just to make sure Jimmy Johnston won't have anything on him when Lou's Gus Lesnevich and Jimmy's Bob Pastor tangle tonight. Californians aren't very hopeful about big-time racing this year but most of the county fair tracks will operate. So will the minor coast tracks—Longacres and Vancouver. Donald Gehr, who had 35 pro fights around Chicago while working his way through art school has a one-man exhibit in New York this week.

Today's Guest Star

Springer Gibson, Chattanooga (Tenn.) Evening Times: "It's not true that Moe Berg was asked to keep his expense account as low as his batting average on his good-will tour."

On Schedule

There seems to be a big-time opening for the man who drew up the schedule for Pennsylvania's Mountain Interscholastic Basketball League. The final night of the first half found St. Ann's and East Mauch Chunk tied for first. Nor-emberg and Rock Glen tied for third, Weatherly and White Haven

1937-38 Champions to Drill At "Y" Tonight, Tomorrow; Advance Ticket Sale Good

In preparation to their Red Cross benefit attraction to be played on Beatty court next Tuesday evening with the Warren High school Dragons, the 1937-38 champions will work out at the "Y" tonight and tomorrow evening.

This evening's drill will get started about eight o'clock, and is scheduled to last for forty-five minutes. Tomorrow night the passers will have a longer session, one hour and a half in length, starting at 8 o'clock.

Luise Noecker, history instructor in the high school, will serve as coach for the Champions next week, and is expected to be on hand to conduct the drills at the "Y."

All members of the 1937-38 team, which includes John Dahler, Bob Traub, Dick Underwood, Bob Chase, Tom Conway, Ken Whisner, Willard Zerbe, Tink Wolfe, Springs Johnson, Bob Beatty and Art McKeehan, who can possibly be the above practices are urged to come out, so that the former high school luminaries may get their joints to moving freely again prior to the battle.

Though the ex-scholastic stars can't attain perfect condition before Tuesday night, the game is expected to be a close one because they'll have added experience and skill with which to battle an expectedly faster Kolpien crew.

Art McKeehan, who is handling the advance ticket sale, reported to the Times-Mirror today that the tickets are being bought up at a rapid pace, and he is confident that a full house will be packed away in Beatty court to watch the contest.

Tickets may be purchased, McKeehan reminded, at the B & R Smoke Shop, Texas Lunch, Cozy Corner, Eddie Stewart's Barber Shop on the East Side, and at the Times-Mirror sports department.

There will be no complimentary passes to Tuesday night's encounter, and season tickets will not be valid for the attraction. Students must, however, obtain a special ticket at the gate, and a limited number of adult tickets, depending upon the number remaining after the advance sale is completed, will be on sale at Beatty school also just before game time.

No preliminary contest will precede the Red Cross basketball clash though the Blue and White second team will play for a brief interlude in an intra-squad rehearsal while the paying customers arrive for the battle.

BREAKING THE OLD SHELL

DANGEROUS BAGGAGE BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

YESTERDAY: Sharon's day has been pretty topsy-turvy. She was late at the office, and Mr. Goodwin disapproves lateness. Then a young man named Tom Stafford barged in, and two minutes later asked her for a date. Then Mr. Goodwin himself, whom Sharon worships as his private secretary, also asks for a luncheon date. Now Sharon and Mr. Goodwin are at a restaurant, and Mr. Goodwin is letting Sharon know he is thinking more of her as a person than as a secretary.

Chapter Three
Still Another Job

"It's charming," she murmured, carefully understating her thrilled excitement.

"Glad you like it. I've got a table marked off for us somewhere," Goodwin beckoned to a dark-skinned, bowing head waiter.

"Yes, Mr. Goodwin. Right this way, please, sir."

A table just for two, not too close to the orchestra, set just far enough behind a group of palms to give a feeling of intimacy. Low upholstered arm chairs drawn close on the same side of the low, mirror-smooth table.

A waiter brought cocktails at once and a pretty Hawaiian girl in a grass skirt laid a heavy lei of white carnations around Sharon's neck.

onions a waiter had set before them. Then, abruptly:

"Let's eat first and talk business afterward. These prawns are excellent!"

They were but to Sharon they might as well have been savants. Had he brought her here to tell her she was fired? Too young for the job. Forebodingly, Tom Stafford rushed back to haunt her. "Much too young to be a private secretary. You have to be old and experienced." Was Mr. Goodwin about to tell her the same thing?

Bravely, she kept her smile, smiling, forced back the tears that stung her eyelids. It couldn't be. It wasn't fair. She had done the work well. She knew that. And she'd always done it well. It only he'd give her the chair.

After a long parade of delicacies, the waiter finally brought desert and black coffee.

"Now," Mr. Goodwin drew his chair closer. "Do you mind if I talk shop?"

"No, of course not," she managed quietly. Here it came.

"I employed you as private secretary because I think you have superior intelligence and real ambition plus a great capacity for loyalty."

Sharon almost dared not listen. Folding her hands, she hid them, clenched under the table.

"So far, you have done excellently. I have been very pleased."

"You mean I'm to act as--spy?"

"How--lovely!" Sharon gasped. "Nice custom." Mr. Goodwin nodded. "Ever been to the Islands?"

Sharon shook her head. She'd never even been out of the state. Dad's life insurance had provided rent and food and clothes enough to get by but there'd never been any left over for travel.

"Like to travel?" He watched her over his thin-stemmed glass. Sharon shrugged gracefully. "I've never had the chance."

"You will!" His eyes smiled at her. "What have you done with yourself up to now?"

"Oh, nothing much. Gone to school, helped look after my little brother, made a few fast friends and no enemies that I know of and--" meeting his eyes--"landed a perfectly swell job. That's about all."

The orchestra began a dreamy waltz.

"Like to dance?"

"I'd love to."

He danced well, smoothly, guiding her across the crowded floor. Sharon held her breath and prayed that no perverse fate tripped her, made her spoil this perfect pattern. She'd never really thought much about her dancing before. Always taken it as a matter of course and enjoyed it. Now she wanted to be so very sure she danced well.

His compliment when the number brought the blushing surging back to her cheeks. "You dance beautifully. So few women know how to waltz nowadays."

"You sound--" she dared a little,--"as if you'd just arrived from the ballrooms of the last century."

He laughed. "Not actually, but you see, I was educated abroad. Never knew anything about jazz except what I read in the papers from home. And when I did return to this country, I was too far behind the style to catch up."

That, too, accounted for his distinction. Sharon made mental footnote. Educated in the Old World traditions, cultures, Prague, Vienna, London--all the beautiful historic spots of Europe before they blitzkrieged it to ruins.

How odd are you, Sharon? he asked abruptly.

"Twenty--almost."

"Twenty?" He studied her so intently her heart raced. "And very lovely. Too young probably for the work I had in mind for you."

Sharon's heart tripped, fell flat against the base of her throat. "What do you mean?"

Shop Talk

HE hesitated, stared a moment at the tempting tray of fresh prawns, cracked crab, tiny pickled

He glanced around them with a carelessness. Sharon realized instantly was assumed. "Now, I'm wondering if I have the right to put greater responsibilities upon such young shoulders."

"If I knew what you meant--" Sharon suggested almost in a whisper.

"Briefly--this. There is a serious blockage of production in the plant, as you well know. We have contracts for important defense work. We make airplane tools. Those tools are not being produced as rapidly as we have reason to believe they could be. When they are shipped, they are subject to endless and costly delays."

Spy!

TENSE, Sharon waited for him to go on.

Lighting a cigarette, he smoked quietly for a moment.

"It may be inefficiency. It more probably is--sabotage."

"Sabotage!" Sharon scarcely breathed the word.

Mr. Goodwin watched her steadily. "I want you to help me discover which."

Sharon's eyes flew to his. "Me?"

"You're young. You're new at your job. You're lovely to look at. No one will suspect you of being interested in more than the cut of your suit or the smartness of your new hat."

"You mean I'm to act as--spy?"

He laughed. "That's rather a melodramatic way of putting it. I mean that you are to listen and watch and say nothing. There is somewhere in our plant, someone employed by an enemy. Maybe several. Of one of these agents at least, I believe, I'm sure."

Again, Sharon waited, her heart pounding.

"I have reason to believe he has been sent to us deliberately in the guise of electrical engineer to study your plant, to do his best to sabotage our efforts."

"You don't you can't mean Tom Staff--"

Instantly Goodwin laid a finger across her lips. "The first thing you must learn," he said rather curiously, "is never to mention names where you might be overheard."

"It will be dangerous business. It may even involve risking your life. I don't believe it will come to that. However, I want you to know what you are up against. The enemy is clever, ruthless, determined that we shall fail to keep our promises. Considering that, do you still want to help?"

Warning Issued by the Navy

man radio by a fanfare of trumpets today reported that U-boats operating off the United States and Canada had sunk 43 ships totalling 302,000 tons since the beginning of the war with the United States.

The special announcement added 13 ships totalling 74,000 tons to the previous total claimed by the Germans.

Situation Admitted Critical

that God may bless immeasurably
the president of the United States.

While Japan thrust her octopus-like invasion tentacles deeper into the south seas, a special bulletin from the German high command asserted that Nazi U-boats operating off the United States and Canada had sunk 43 ships totalling 302,000 tons since the beginning of the war with the United States.

The German claim was far in excess of anything reported on this side of the Atlantic, where latest figures put the total of Allied merchant ships sunk at 14.

Washington quarters conceded that a new wave of U-boat attacks on American and Canadian shipping was likely.

On the Malay front, the Japanese news agency Domei said Japanese troops reached Kuala after capturing the railroad town of Se-denak, eight miles north, last night.

British reports last night indicated that Imperial troops were fiercely opposing the Japanese on a line roughly 30 to 40 miles north of the Strait, through Rengit, Layang-layang and Ulu Sedih from left flank to right.

Rangoon, Burmese capital protected by American volunteer group and British pilots, was raided again by the Japanese last night and five Allied planes were downed, a Domei report declared.

President Takes Time

Out For a Birthday
Lunch With Movie Stars

In the national capital, a galaxy of Hollywood stars helped celebrate Mr. Roosevelt's birthday.
They were invited to a White House luncheon at noon a dinner and reception tonight and then were scheduled to make the round of parties and dances tonight, along with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The president will speak during an hour-long radio program, to be carried by all four major networks, beginning at 11 15 p. m.
(EST).

Otherwise, it was work as usual for the president on his birthday, just as it has been every day since the attack on Pearl Harbor.

War has altered the presidential routine to a marked extent. He receives fewer appointments with

PLAN AIR RAID PROTECTION IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Public schools of Warren are being organized for the protection of pupils, should this community ever be subject to actual air raids. It was revealed today by Superintendent John G. Rossman. Arrangements for protecting the children as much as possible, should such a raid occur, are being completed rapidly and it is expected that actual drills will be held in the near future.

At present the various rooms in each of the school buildings are being organized in such a way that pupils will know exactly what to do and where to go in case an alarm is sounded. Individual teachers, under the guidance of the building principals, are carrying out the training.

As soon as all of the rooms in the schools are properly organized, drills involving complete buildings are expected to be held. Actual warnings of air raid danger would be transmitted to the various schools from the superintendent's office at the high school. Each building is arranging its own warning signal, which is to be distinct from the fire alarm. The instrument may be any bell, whistle, hand-operated gong or bugle, or anything not solely dependent upon electric current, which may be shut off.

At the first alarm, all pupils are to drop their work, go to the cloak rooms and clothe for the street. They will then go to pre-arranged stations, where, if space permits, they will be seated on the floor.

Stations will be in corridors on the first floor away from windows or in basements where ample exits are available and basement level is not below street level or just a few steps below.

Stations will be in classrooms only when no other space is available or time does not permit further movement and then along inner walls and beneath desks and tables. Window shades are to be drawn at once to prevent or retard flying splinters.

Due consideration is to be given to sanitary and drinking water needs.

If pupils are held "on station" any length of time, they are to be kept busy with story telling, singing, victrola music, etc. Under no consideration will parents be permitted to enter the building or take pupils out of line, nor is the telephone to be used either in or out for communicating with pupils. Janitors are also being instructed what to do in case of an air raid alarm for the additional protection of those in the various buildings.
